

Examples of AI in my daily life

1. Email filters in a Gmail

The AI filters emails and puts them in specific boxes. If it detects a spam email it puts it into the spam box.

I like the AI because it helps me keep an organized inbox and a reason why I would dislike it is that it sometimes doesn't detect spam.

2. Google predictive searches

What this does is that google will collect my data and using their AI they attempt to guess what I am trying to search.

I like it because it makes searching a little bit easier but it also can make me a little uncomfortable knowing that an AI can know so much about me just by looking at what I search up.
